5. The changes made by us are detailed below :—

Long Title and Preamble.—We have added a long title and have redrafted the Preamble to make it more explicit.

Clause 1.—We have made slight drafting changes in this clause and have renumbered it as sub-clause (1) of clause 1

Clause 2.—We have omitted the provision regarding the date on which the Act is to come into operation leaving it to the provisions of the General Clauses Act and have redrafted this clause. We have renumbered this clause as sub-clause (2) of clause 1 of the Bill.

Minute of Dissent by Mr. Bankim Chandra Datta, M. L. C.

Unavoidable circumstances took me away from town for about three months and as such I could not have any notice of the meetings held by the Select Committee

It is one of those very few Bills which is not for the general benefit of the people and is based on an imaginary grievance born of an inferiority complex

The sponsor of the Bill does not apparently seek the unification of the Bar as this Bill want only uniformity in robes among practitioners in the Calcutta High Court leaving the other classess of lawyers to shift for themselves

The following classes of lawyers practise in the various Courts of Bengal –

(i) Vakils

(ii) District Court Pleaders, Small Cause Court Pleaders and Police Court Pleaders

(iii) Mukhtears

(iv) Revenue Court Agents

(v) Solicitors

(vi) Barristers.

It is somewhat obscure as to what he (sponsor of the Bill) means by saying that 'as a necessary step towards the creation of a united Bar, there should be a uniform robe for Advocates of the High Court' This clearly shows that he does not like the idea that the High Court Vakils or Advocates should wear the same robes as the District Court Pleaders or Mukhtears etc

The Barristers have, from time immemorial, had a distinctive robe worn by them all over the world There is no reason why they should be deprived of the same or that others should be allowed to copy them.

The matter of robes, if I may say so, is a domestic matter for the learned Chief Justice and the Judges of the Hon'ble High Court They have, after hearing all concerned, exercised discretion and prescribed certain modes of robes for lawyers practising in that Court and I venture to submit that a piece of legislation like this would be a direct interference with the jurisdiction of the Hon'ble High Court and should not have been introduced in this Legislature

The Indian Bar Councils Act has dealt with the status of the Barristers and Advocates of the High Court as also the question of seniority among them and thereafter there should be no grievance against the Barristers at all This cry for the same robes for all, is, I regret, born of all imaginary grievance, possibly among a very few members, inasmuch as a large number of the Vakils or Advocates would never grudge the robes as they can stand in their own merits, without caring for this or that robe.

It is a mere cry for the shadow and the valuable time of the Legislature should not have been wasted by such an unnecessary piece of legislation.

[NOTE.—All matters omitted by the Select Committee have been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets, and all new matters inserted have been underlined.]

to prescribe a uniform robe for wearing in Court by Advocates.

WHEREAS it is expedient to [help in the creation of a unified Bar for the Province of Bengal and as a necessary step towards that end to prescribe a uniform robe for] provide for ensuring the uniformity of the robes to be worn by Advocates of the High Court when appearing in any Court including the High Court in their professional capacity*[,]*;

[it] It is hereby enacted as follows :—

Short title and extent.

1. (1) This Act [shall] may be called the Advocates' Robes Act, 1943.

[2. This Act shall come into operation in this whole of Bengal on the day on which it is published in the "Calcutta Gazette" and it shall apply to all Advocates enrolled as such in the High Court.]

(2) It extends to the whole of Bengal.

Definitions.

(a) [the words] "High Court" [shall] means the High Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal in its Original as well as Appellate Jurisdiction, and

(b) [the word] "Advocate*[s]*" [shall have] has the same meaning [and import] as in the Indian Bar Councils Act, [XXXVIII of] 1926. XXXVIII of 1926.

[4. Within a period to be prescribed by the High Court not being more than three months from the date on which this Act comes into force the High Court shall prescribe one uniform robe for all Advocates appearing in Court without reference to any other robe such Advocates might be entitled to wear as a member of any learned body.]

High Court to prescribe uniform robe for Advocates.

3. Notwithstanding that any Advocate may be entitled to wear any particular robe by virtue of his being a member of any legal body or association, the High Court shall prescribe within six months after the coming into force of this Act one uniform robe for wear by Advocates of the High Court when appearing in their professional capacity before any Court including the High Court and no Advocate of the High Court shall, after the expiry of six months after the termination of the present war or six months after the coming into force of this Act whichever is the later, when so appearing, wear any robe other than the one so prescribed:

Provided that the provisions of this section shall not apply to the Advocate-General of India or the Advocate-General of any Province in India.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It appears that the question of robes for its Advocates has long been agitating the High Court at least since 1929.

While trying to dispose of the matter in the interests of uniformity the Court made rules which led not to uniformity but really to diversity. At present there are three classes of robes worn in the High Court—

(i) An Advocate's robe prescribed by the Court,

(ii) A Barrister's gown,

(iii) A blue gown prescribed by the Court in 1907 for Vakils.

Recently there have been instances where the Court has itself not followed its own rules.

The idea for a long time has been to have a self-contained Indian Bar. Uniformity in robes is a step towards that end.

This Bill is therefore introduced to secure that end.

BROJENDRA MOHAN MAITRA,

Member-in-charge.

(iv) Revenue Court Agents.

(v) Solicitors.

(vi) Barristers.

It is somewhat obscure as to what he (sponsor of the Bill) means by saying that "as a necessary step towards the creation of a united Bar, there should be a uniform robe for Advocates of the High Court". This clearly shows that he does not like the idea that the High Court Vakils or Advocates should wear the same robes as the District Court Pleaders or Mukhtears, etc.

The Barristers have, from time immemorial, had a distinctive robe worn by them all over the world. There is no reason why they should be deprived of the same or that others should be allowed to copy them.

The matter of robes, if I may say so, is a domestic matter for the learned Chief Justice and the Judges of the Hon'ble High Court. They have, after hearing all concerned, exercised discretion and prescribed certain modes of robes for lawyers practising in that Court and I venture to submit that a piece of legislation like this would be a direct interference with the jurisdiction of the Hon'ble High Court and should not have been introduced in this Legislature.

The Indian Bar Councils Act has dealt with the status of the Barristers and Advocates of the High Court as also the question of seniority among them and thereafter there should be no grievance against the Barristers at all. This cry for the same robes for all, is, I regret, born of all imaginary grievance, possibly among a very few members ; inasmuch as a large number of the Vakils or Advocates would never grudge the robes as they can stand in their own merits, without caring for this or that robes.

It is a mere cry for the shadow and the valuable time of the Legislature should not have been wasted by such an unnecessary piece of legislation.

Third and Final Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1943-44.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1941-42, the area under winter rice in Bengal has represented some 20·7 per cent. of the total area under winter rice in India.)

Character of the season.—Since the issue of the Second Forecast in December last, the weather has been favourable for harvesting the crop.

Acreage.—According to District Officers' estimates the total area under winter rice is 18,176,700 acres as against 16,207,100 acres of last year.

Outturn.—From the summary of the district returns appended it will be seen that seven districts report bumper crop and the rest normal outturn of 100 per cent

The provincial outturn is estimated to be 103 per cent. of the normal as against 68 per cent. of the last year

Accepting 103 per cent. as the provincial outturn, the gross yield of the crop, on the basis of the normal yield of 12⅝ maunds of clean rice (husked) per acre, is estimated at 8,628,100 tons this year against 5,020,100 tons in the last year.

39. Annadasankar Ray.—অপসরণ—

Apasaran. [Exit.] The sixth and the last book of the series known as "Satyāsatya" or "Badal-Sudhi-Ujjayini" narrating a story of psychological interest. This volume depicts the problems raised far, being brought to a head. The heroine is seen to be under a great mental agitation which gives her no rest in America where she went for vocational study as shown in the preceeding book "Martyer Svarga", makes her wish for her husband's slip so as to afford her an opportunity of a divorce, makes her suddenly hurry back to London to the surprise of all, and even leads her to commit a slip, however slight in surrendering herself to the embrace of a male friend of hers. Her husband also, who has all along exhibited a morbid attachment to his own peculiar ideals, has in the meantime, sunk to the life of a petty hawker selling match boxes and living in a lowly habitation and company, as a logical consequence of his ideas. The heroine's friend and benefactor separate from his beloved for reasons of an unbridgeable difference of opinion, and is anxious on account of the heroine who expresses a desire to get rid of her husband and to live with him under his protection as a sister. The problematical situation thus brought to a head is saved by the timely but tragic death of the hero, which puts an end to the question of any possibility or otherwise of a reunion of the couple and at the same time brings to light the deep, suppressed love of the heroine who has hitherto remained an enigma to her friends and relatives. Published by Gopaldas Majumdar, D. M. Library, 42, Cornwallis Street, Calcutta. 1349 sāl or 1942-43 A.D. (23-5-1942.) Pages 5+3+331. Double Crown 16mo. 1st edition. Re. 2-8-0. Copies 1,100.

The zamindar, in due course realizing the ultimate object of the conspiracy returned all her properties and got her married with the lover and dismissed the wicked naib as a punishment for his selfish motive. 96. Manomohan Ghosh, M.A., Ph.D.—বাংলা গদ্যের চার যুগ—

Bāṁlā Gadyer Cār Yug. [Four eras of Bengali prose.] Traces the growth and development of Bengali prose. Points out that the history of Bengali prose may be taken to have virtually begun in the beginning of the nineteenth century that is from 1801, as no available literary work in prose prior to that time is considered worthy of recognition. Suggests that the history of the evolution of Bengali prose may conveniently be divided into four eras, e.g., Rammohan era from 1801 to 1843, Tatvabodhini era from 1843 to 1872, Bankim era from 1872 to 1892 and Rabindra era from 1892 to the present time, and treats the subject accordingly in this light showing how one era has flowed into the succeeding one thereby making a connected whole. Published by Kshitish Chandra Das Gupta, Das Gupta & Co., 54-3, College Street, Calcutta. 1942. (18-5-1942.) Pages 13+287. Demy 8vo. 1st edition. Re. 3-0-0. Copies 500.

135. Manoranjan Ray.—দেশ-রক্ষী-বাহিনী—

Deś-rakṣī Bāhinī [Home Guards]—Suggests that India has got to be alert to the danger of Japanese aggression and to resolve to resist it. The only way to deal successfully with this Fascist aggression on India is to form a strong force of Home Guards much on the lines of the Chinese mass movement which has given an ample demonstration of what courage and determination of the people can do in the case of an ill-armed people against a force vastly superior in equipments. India is said to labour under the drawback of being governed by a foreign power which will not hand over to the people of the country the necessary armaments. But the people need not be daunted on this account as the country has an immense man-power which can be well utilised in country's defence provided it is infused with a strong determination and moral force. Finally it discusses the formation of Home Guards, their techniques and tactics and the services for which they can be utilised. Published by Satyabrata Chatterjee, Fascist Birodhi Jana-Sangha, 249D, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta. (15-5-1942.) Pages 31. Double Crown 16mo. 1st edition. Re. 0-5-0. Copies 1,000.

183. Ajit Ray.—ভারতের মুক্তি সংগ্রাম—

Bhārater Mukti-Saṁgrām. [India's war of independence]—Purports to show that the present war is also the war of independence for India. Warns against the belief said to be current in a section of the Indian people, that Japan will hand over independence to India. Japan is an Imperialist power and as such cannot but ultimately help Fascist Germany in her attempt to crush Russia which is the ideal country for the masses. Refers to Britain's hesitation to arm India although her assistance is very necessary in the present war, as the armed and united people cannot only resist Fascist aggression but also destroy imperialism. Indian interests are linked with those of Russia and China and she cannot do to sit idle depending upon the leaders of different political groups when the war for her own freedom is raging outside and is even knocking at her doors. Students are also called upon to exert themselves for uniting the masses on the basis of nationalism. Holds out the hope that the war for the liberation of humanity will be a success if India can unitedly and determinedly rise to take her stand in this war and that Britain will soon be constrained to accede to the demands of India owing to internal and external pressure. Points out that independence is a thing to be achieved and not to be got as a gift and refers to the failure of Cripp's mission as a fact indicating that force and not compromise can obtain any thing for India. 184. Barendranath Chatarji.—বর্ত্তমান যুদ্ধের স্বরূপ—

Barttaman Yuddher Svarūp. [Nature of the present war]—Presents a study of the nature of the present war with a view to create an anti-Fascist mentality in the Indian masses. Condemns Fascism which is said to be fighting in the interests of a class and not in that of the masses. Russia's entry in the war against Fascist Germany has changed the phase of the war to that of a people's war. Indian people is asked to understand that helping Britain in this war does not mean helping Imperialism or foreign and native self-seekers, but means fighting for the independence of the masses by joining hands with that power in England which is fighting Fascism. Refers to Japan's designs and her policy, warns people against keeping faith in the spirits of resignation, fatalism and non-violence all of which are said to encourage weakness. Exhorts the masses to shake off the spirit of bargaining and to unite and organise with the conviction that it is their duty to defend their country with a firm determination which goes a long way to build up a power of resistance as demonstrated by China in her defence against Japan. [Call of the Anti-Fascists of the world to the masses of Mymensingh (district) on the May Day]—An Exhortation to the people of Mymensingh on the 1st May, 1942, to unite against Fascist aggression with the consciousness that the present war is being fought for the liberation of the entire suffering humanity on the one hand and for the destruction of imperialism on the other, and at the same time to realise that Japan is an enemy of Bengal and as such must be resisted at all costs. Points out that the path to Swaraj will be easier if the people of Bengal can acquire power by shouldering the responsibility of the defence of the province against Japanese aggression. Also mentions a few salient requirements for the object, viz., union between the Congress and the League, establishment of a national government, improved A. R. P. organisation, together with a suitable rousing slogan. Published by Sunirmal Sen, Saraju Press, Mymensingh. (30-4-1942.) Pages 12. Double Crown 16mo. 1st edition. Price— . Copies 3,500.

187. Rezaul Karim, M.A., B.L.—পাকিস্থানের বিচার—

Pākisthāner Bicār [Examination of Pakistan]—A criticism of the Pakistan scheme. Shows that the scheme means to partition India into Hindu and Muslim areas, that it has been conceived in a spirit of revenge and that it has been launched after a long preparation in furtherance of the divide and rule policy of the Britis' rule, at the secret instigation of the British who mean to remain in the dark and enjoy the benefits. India is one and undivided and all its peoples inspite of their minor differences comprise but one nation and so the object of the scheme is bound to be defeated as its supporters well-know that it is untenable. Attempt is also made to point out its defects and it is shown that the scheme fails to set its ideals in clear terms, to consider the economic conditions involved and to appreciate or safeguard properly even the Muslim interests in whose name it is being pushed. While discussing the secret objects of the scheme it is pointed out among other things, that it means to frustrate the Congress demand for constituent Assembly by keeping alive an agitation against it, to spread communalism in the frontier to frustrate all sorts of political struggles of the Congress and to wound the feelings of non-Muslims so that they may stand against the Muslims thereby making the gulf wider and wider, and the possibility of their fusion all the more remote. Points out the necessity of consciously and carefully understanding the duty awaiting people of India in this crisis when Japan is knocking at the very doors of India and exhorts the people to realise that the responsibility of defending India lies on the shoulders of the peoples themselves, that present war is a war for the deliverance of the masses of the world and that the only way left for the Indian masses is to oppose Fascism by joining the war with which the fate of this country is linked. It is held that they are the one and the same person and he is Ahmad who appeared in India and whose watchword was to weld the mankind into one and single human race through the teachings of Muhammad and to eliminate impiety, injustice and aetheism from the face of the earth. On the termination of this war, it is stated, a new civilization will spring up out of the ruins of the old civilization and as, according to the Qadiani creed, the prophecy of the Gita regarding the appearance of the Sri Krishna in the form of Kalki has been fulfilled in Ahmed who was born in India, India will take the lead of the world in establishing peace and kingdom of God on earth and she alone will win the religious struggle on the termination of the second world war. 297. Sex Life of Man and Woman—Pleads for a liberal change in the old school outlook on sex which has hitherto been regarded as a thing both sinful and shameful. Holds that sex is an important and dominating factor of life and that as such it should be given an enlightened consideration so that social taboo on it may be removed not only for the recognition of man's unalienable rights to a free scope for the natrual sexual instinct, but also for a proper mental development of children who are often led astray by their natural inquisitiveness about sex. Attempts also to answer the question "what is love," and regards prostitution as a social safeguard. Refers to the physical, e.g., grandular, metabolical, functional emotional and the intellectual diffrences between man and woman, to the views about the purpose of the pubic hair to the human organs of reproduction, as also to the process of conception. Offers outlines of naked bodies of both sexes with voluptuous appeal apparently for the purpose of rousing passion. Published by the printer, 11C, Rajendralal Street, Calcutta. 317. Agriculture under Capitalism. A study of the Marxist views on the economic aspect of the conditions of agriculture under Capitalism. Capitalism is held to lead to ever increasing "ruralisation" and to a divorce of industry from agriculture. Exploitation is carried on in the field of agriculture leading to increasing indebtedness and giving rise to the class of wage earners. Large scale agriculture also is a harmful incident of capitalism although in Russia it is a blessing owing to a different system of ownership of land. Attention is drawn to the causes of impoverishment of farmers under capitalism and suggestion is made as to the necessity of an alliance between peasants and workers both of whom are said to be exploited under capitalism. Edited by Girin Chakravarty. Published by Pyari Das, National Book Agency, 72, Harrison Road, Calcutta. (27-5-1942.) Pages 20. Demy 8vo. 1st edition. Re. 0-4-0. Copies 1,000.
